GO WITH THE FLOW
BY EDEN EQUIPMENT

Excel Filters use a pleated design to provide maximum filtration capacity, economy, and longer service life. Excel cartridges achieve a more than twice the flow rate and six times the life of a string wound filter and spun polypropylene cartridges. Excel Polyester and polypropylene medias have chemical compatibility with a wide range of chemicals, provide high temperature resistance and minimize pressure drop for long life and dependability in process applications. Our inner polypropylene core design allows for maximum flow, lowest contact stress points giving Excel the most efficient and maximum usable surface area.

For over 30 years, Excel Filters parent company, Eden Equipment, has manufactured residential and commercial water filter cartridge products for some of the worlds most difficult liquid applications and demanding customer specifications. All Eden Equipment products are manufactured in the USA. Our cartridges and filtration vessels, by design, perform exceptionally well in harsh environments and over a long period of time.

Excel Filters can be purchased at a local retailer near you or Direct Buy eliminating the middle guy. This gives you the best price possible, allowing business owners, to maximize products while providing a superior product at an extremely competitive rate.
